DESIGNING MODERN SCHOOL CAFETERIAS

School cafeterias aren't just for serving meals. They can host before — and after — school programs, small group instruction or extended learning programs, social & emotional support and instruction, and more.

The design of your cafeteria can easily support these multiple uses — or it can impede them. It can help foster school pride . . . but only if you avoid an institutional look and feel.

With the right approach, you can create an engaging and inviting space that serves many purposes before, during, and after school.

Here are six key elements for designing a successful school cafeteria — one that students will want to spend time in, which can lead to a stronger sense of community and greater opportunities for learning.

Cafeterias that engage & inspire. With careful planning, your school cafeteria can build a sense of community, support learning beyond the classroom, and even generate more revenue.

Learn how School Specialty® can help you design and equip your cafeteria to engage, inspire, and serve a wide variety of uses.

CHOICE

Offering a variety of options in where to sit and what to eat helps put students in charge. It gives them a sense of ownership over the space and their education.

Choice also makes the cafeteria feel more inclusive. Having multiple styles to choose from, such as bench-style seating and café-style tables, caters to different preferences and makes students feel welcome.

When designing your cafeteria, take inspiration from other dining venues: How can you increase food-service revenue while attracting students to the space? Could you create a food court or use self-service kiosks to lend a more modern feel, while increasing the choices available? How about a café section for older students?

COMFORT

Invest in seating and tables that students and community members can use comfortably. Students are subconsciously comparing your cafeteria to their favorite food chains when they're dining, and too often the cafeteria comes up short.

Consider replacing or supplementing traditional, picnic-style tables with seating you might see at a restaurant, such as booths and café-style tables made of more comfortable materials. This would make the space more appealing, giving students another place to gather and study together.

VERSATILITY

To get the most value out of your cafeteria, it should be a multi-use space that supports many activities.

Can it double as a study center or a lounge area when meals aren't being served? Can you host community functions in your cafeteria to raise more revenue?

Using modular tables that can be configured in different ways makes it simple to convert the space from one use to another. Make sure they're on casters so they can be moved around easily. When purchasing large tables, consider ones that can be folded up and stored.

CONNECTION

To enhance your cafeteria's potential for building community, plan the space in a way that facilitates movement and social interaction. Make sure there are clear walkways for students (and educators) to circulate around the room. Tables should be placed with at least three to four feet of clearance between them.

Versatility also means being able to support various group sizes. Some students might want to sit and read by themselves, while others might want to talk or work together in pairs or small groups. Equipping cafeterias with a variety of seating types and/or with modular furniture allows for groupings of different sizes.

STIMULATION

What better place to foster school spirit than a community gathering space like a cafeteria? You can inspire school pride and spirit with the colors you choose for your furnishings. Using custom graphics, murals, and other artwork can also convert an otherwise drab space into a source of community pride.

TECHNOLOGY

To make your cafeteria functional for learning and studying, think about the infrastructure students will need. For instance, consider how you can make electrical outlets readily available for students to plug in their digital devices.

You can embed outlets in the floor, choose tables and seating with outlets built into the furniture, or use mobile "power towers" to bring power to students. If you integrate power into the tabletops, then students aren't tripping on power cords — and they aren't limited in their choice of where to sit.

LIMITED LIFETIME WARRANTY

What Does This Warranty Cover?

This warranty covers substantial defects in a Classroom Select® product's material or workmanship, with some exceptions that are stated below.

What Does this Warranty Not Cover?

This warranty does not cover damage, or product failure, from: normal wear and tear, misuse, negligence, acts of God, abuse, accidents, vandalism, freight damage, failure to follow instructions, improper installation, failure to perform routine inspection or required maintenance service, transport from one site or location to another, alterations to the product not expressly authorized by School Specialty®, or from any causes having an origin other than in the material or manufacture of the product. Also, consequential and incidental damages are not recoverable under this warranty. Some states do not allow the exclusion or limitation of incidental or consequential damages, so this limitation or exclusion may not apply to you.

Some natural variations occurring in polypropylene, laminate, hard plastic or other natural materials are inherent to their character and are not considered defects. The colorfastness and the matching of colors, grains, or textures of these materials are not covered under this warranty. The products are intended for interior use. Exterior use of any of the products voids this warranty.

What is Period of Coverage?

The period of coverage is for as long as the original purchaser owns the product, with the following exceptions:

PRODUCT, MATERIAL, OR MECHANISM	Period of Coverage From Date of Purchase
Cafeteria tables: torsion bars and frames	16 Years
Pneumatic seating controls and cylinders, glides, casters, chroming, and polymer-based components	5 Years
Seating control mechanisms, foam, mesh materials and seating	5 Years
File slides and locks	5 Years
Panel and tackboard textiles and keyboard mechanisms	5 Years
Laminate surfaces and other covering material	3 Years

Coverage terminates if you sell or otherwise transfer the product

What Classroom Select® Products are Included?

All Classroom Select® products purchased from School Specialty® on or after January 1, 2014.

What Will School Specialty® Do to Correct Problems?

If the product's material or workmanship is defective, School Specialty® will, at its sole discretion, do one of the following:

- replace the product; or
- repair the product on site; or
- repair the product at the manufacturer's facility; or
- return the product's purchase price — minus depreciation.

If the product is no longer manufactured by Classroom Select®, School Specialty® may substitute a comparable product for replacement.

If School Specialty® takes action to correct a defect, School Specialty® will not renew or extend this warranty to a repaired or replaced product. School Specialty® will not honor the attempted transfer of this warranty.

How Do You Contact School Specialty®?

Products believed to be defective must be reported to School Specialty® promptly. You should contact your School Specialty® representative. If your School Specialty® representative is unavailable or unable to provide service you should:

Call 1-888-388-3224 or, send a letter to:
School Specialty, Inc.
Attn: Furniture Merchandising, W6316 Design Drive, Greenville, WI 54942

Are There Any Limitations On Other Warranties?

Yes, the period of coverage for implied warranties, including warranties of merchantability and warranties of fitness for a particular purpose, are limited to the same period of coverage of this warranty. Some states do not allow limitations on how long an implied warranty lasts, so this limitation may not apply to you.

How Does State Law Apply?

This warranty gives you specific legal rights, and you may also have other rights which vary from state to state.

GREENGUARD® GOLD CERTIFICATION

While poor indoor air quality affects everyone, children are especially at risk. This is because their immune and neurological systems are still developing, and they breathe in a greater volume of air than adults relative to their body mass.

This is just one reason why School Specialty® is committed to achieving Greenguard® Gold Certification for a number of our products. When a product carries the Greenguard® Gold Certification mark, parents and educators can be assured it meets one of the most stringent chemical emission standards in the world.
